MinuteBox and McMillan LLP: A True Partnership in Streamlined Entity Management

Uncover how MinuteBox fosters a collaborative partnership with McMillan LLP, enhancing its entity management with robust features.

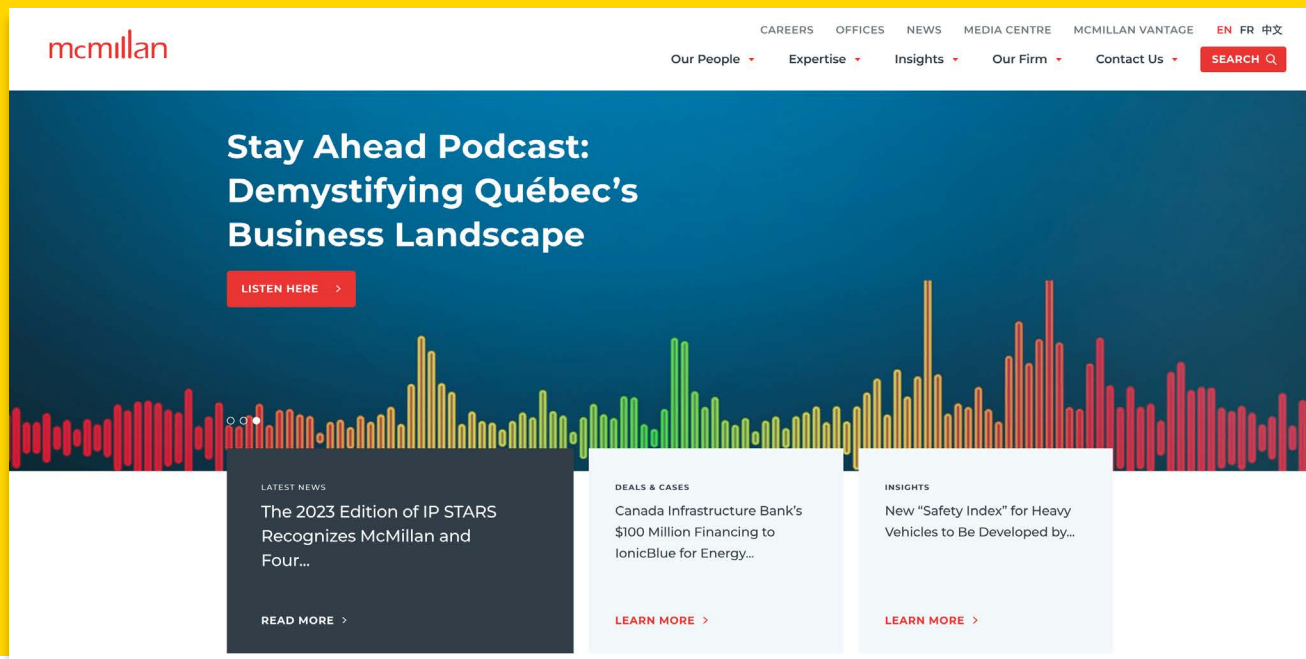

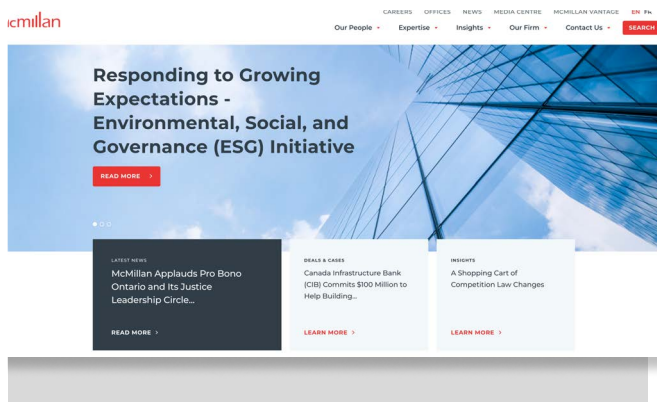

McMillan LLP is a prominent law firm that offers a wide range of legal services. Led by dedicated professionals like National Manager of Corporate Services Susan Dhillon, McMillan is committed to leveraging technology for efficient entity management across its national presence.

McMillan LLP needed a comprehensive entity management solution that could offer more than just a software platform. They were searching for a partner who would understand the unique demands of a law firm, right from the 'go-live' date. McMillan had two primary goals:

1. A single entity management platform to maintain firm standards for all users.
2. A system that provides a wide array of features like document production, report circulation, and client access to corporate records.

MinuteBox was identified as the ideal solution, delivering on all fronts and impressing McMillan with their collaborative approach. "The people have been great to work with. I feel supported in every single way," says Susan Dhillon.

"MinuteBox is a one-stop shop for my entire team. The system is very easy to use, and all the documents are searchable and shareable," said Susan Dhillon, National Manager of Corporate Services, McMillan LLP.

One of MinuteBox's standout features for McMillan is its user-friendly interface, which allows the firm to track, store, and share all sorts of corporate information. It eliminates the need for secondary sites for client access, even providing the ability to web-file documents directly. The platform also offers a rich resource base, complete with guides, forms, and tips, making it a truly comprehensive solution. "They understand the way law firms work," notes Dhillon.
